Twenty Ten Theme & All in One SEO Pack – Joined / No Space Issue

Written by Sid Vel

Topics: Wordpress

Upon upgrading to WordPress 3.0, you might notice the Meta Page Title joined without spacing between the blog title and blog name.

This problem arises when using the Twenty Ten theme or a theme designed using the Twenty Ten theme in conjunction with the All in One SEO Pack plugin. If you have set the configuration to not display the Blog Title as follows, the title function causes the above problem.

The Fix

Open the functions.php from the Twenty Ten (or your modified) theme directory. Go to line 262 (approx) and comment out the following line of code.

add_filter( 'wp_title', 'twentyten_filter_wp_title', 10, 2 );
```

// Add a page number if necessary:
if ( $paged >= 2 || $page >= 2 )
    $title .= " $separator " . sprintf( __( 'Page %s', 'twentyten' ), $paged );

// Return the new title to wp_title():
return $title;
}
//add_filter( 'wp_title', 'twentyten_filter_wp_title', 10, 2 );
```

WordPress 3.0 is awesome!

I tried this but to no avail, Mine looks like “SiteName | PageSiteName” I tried your suggestion but it was already uncommented.

It looks like this

add_filter( 'wp_title', 'seo_wp_title', 10, 2 );
```

while my Title settings in SEO Plugin are

%blog_title% | %page_title%

I have tried it with page title then blog title but i still have the site name in twice ~ any ideas?

Found the problem

“Rewrite Titles:” should be unchecked
